Signed on October 20 and November 2, 1989
Entered into force on January 1, 1990

The Nederlandse organisatie voor wetenschappelijk onderzoek (NWO) in The Hague and the National Science Council (NSC) in Taipei, with a view to developing scientific relations, have agreed to start the implementation of scientific cooperation by means of an exchange of scientists.

1. The exchange will be encouraged by both institutions in all fields of scientific endeavour, including humanities, social sciences, natural sciences and technical Sciences.
2. The sending party shall nominate candidates for exchange visits and propose them to the receiving party. Priority will be given to those scientists who have academic ties with their counterparts in the host country.
3. The duration of visits will be determined from case to case after consideration of the recommendation from the relevant counterparts in each country. The total duration of all visits together during the initial phase of this agreement shall not exceed 24 months per year for either party.

4. The sending party shall pay the costs for international transportation, the receiving party shall provide living expenses. The receiving party shall also provide support for research-related domestic travel within the receiving country, as well as medical costs arising in connection with unforeseen illness or accident.
5. Administrative matters and further details relating to the implementation of this programme will be dealt with by exchange of letters between the two parties.
6. Both parties acknowledge the importance of joint research activities and scientific seminars and will examine the possibility of implementing such activities in the future.
7. This agreement will be in force from 1 January 1990 and will be reviewed every three years. It will continue to be valid until either party notifies the other of its intention to terminate the agreement, in which case any existing exchange activity will be brought to an orderly conclusion. The notification shall be made at least one year in advance of the termination of the agreement.
